BENSALEM TOWNSHIP
SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
Cornwells Heights, Pennsylvania

FOREWORD

We, the class of 1961, realize that the time has finally come to take a great and decisive step forward in our lives. In doing this we must not forget the many people who have helped us to reach this first milestone. Our parents, teachers, and leaders of various youth organizations have been a great inspiration to us. The transition from student to adult may be a difficult one for us, for we will be leaving the many things we have come to love. However, through the help of these people, we know we can take it in our stride.

Long after we have been established in our various fields of endeavor, we will look back, just as we are doing now, on these past twelve years of our lives. We may recall our first day of school and all the excitement of the first grade. As each year passed we can remember counting the days until summer vacation, but now we sometimes wish that somehow we could return again in the fall. We recall entering a new building in the seventh year of school and progressing through the various grades. There were times of both joy and sadness during our years of preparation, but as we grow older, the happy moments will become bright and shine in our memories while the moments of sadness will dim.

As graduation draws near, we realize that there is one thing that we will never forget as we journey onward. Our Alma Mater will be a constant inspiration. Bensalem has found a place in our hearts forever.

WE, THE CLASS
OF 1961, PROUDLY
DEDICATE THIS BOOK TO OUR PARENTS . . .

Among the great commandments found in the Bible, we have discovered one which is especially dear to us. In Exodus 20:12 we read: "Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee."

From earliest childhood we have accepted this principle, and as the years have passed we have come to understand its meaning, as our respect for our loved ones has increased.

We find it difficult to express our gratitude for their many hours of devotion. Throughout life we have followed their examples and respected their decisions. They have comforted and encouraged us in times of failure and have praised our achievements. They have been our helpers, our guardians, and our counselors, as well as our teachers. From them we have learned the principles which we are prepared to follow throughout our lives.

Thus, we proudly dedicate to our parents this yearbook, the 1961 Owl, as a token of our deepest appreciation.

CLASS OF '61

Commencement! Webster defines it as "a time of beginning." You are now beginning your life work. This is "for keeps." For some of you your life work requires special training in a University, College, or other school. For others it will require evenings and weekends spent in further training. For still others your training is part of the actual job and continues as does the job.

Your high school days were for physical growth; for the maturation of your social and emotional development; for building a strong and individual personality; for becoming a contributing citizen; and for successfully "growing up" into manhood and womanhood.

Today you stand alone as an independent man or woman in our free democratic society of America. You will now exercise those freedoms and responsibilities about which you have studied. Soon you will select your life work; your life mate; your own home in a local community and become a part of our great nation. Your home, your community and your nation are not static—they are what you are going to make them. You cannot evade the responsibilities; dodge the issues; blame others; or remain complacent. Change is inevitable and it is up to you to make it forward-looking and meaningful. Never forget, this is your own responsibility and as you act—so will it be.

Commencement! Are you ready? Are you strong? Are you brave and honest? Are you ready for freedom and independence? Pray to your God for help and guidance to use your opportunities to build a better and more peaceful world. Our thoughts and our best wishes go with you always.

R. Struble

To The Class of 1961

Some time ago I came upon a statement in the writings of Henry David Thoreau that caused some little reflection and evaluation on my part. I wonder how you will react to his statement, "The youth gets together his materials to build a bridge to the moon, or, perchance, a palace or temple on the earth, and, at length, the middle-aged man concludes to build a woodshed with them." Is this so? Is all the preparation that you have made as a youth for a vigorous productive adult life for naught? Is living such a negative force that this conclusion may be safely drawn? Are all the fine ideals and skills that you have learned and practiced frills and finery?

I challenge the philosophy of Henry David Thoreau on this point, for I have a stronger faith in youth and their ability to carry into middle age, yes, even old age, the courage and vitality of their youth.

Over the years I have been in very close touch with hundreds of youth. I have seen them carefully and deliberately collect and sort the materials with which to build a bridge to the moon, yes, even to the remotest stars. I have seen them carefully select friends, honestly cultivate good habits, continuously practice loyalty, conscientiously honor decency, truthfully love learning, sincerely practice good citizenship and dutifully obey the laws of their God.

I have seen youth mature and become middle-aged—chronologically, but it is on rare occasion that I have seen a youth of yesterday or today become middle-aged mentally, for if they did the world would soon slip into eternal darkness. The materials you have collected to build a bridge—I am confident will be used for that purpose and I am equally confident that my fellowman and I will cross your bridge just as we have crossed the bridges of those who have gone before you to a clearer, purer, better world and not to a woodshed.

As our township continues to grow and student enrollments become larger, our Board of School Directors works relentlessly to provide physical facilities and to continue our high scholastic level of education.

The libraries in the elementary schools, the Junior High School and Senior High School have been expanded greatly. The science and language programs have also been expanded and new equipment added. The rotation plan of replacing equipment for our Commercial Department and Home Economics department, inaugurated several years ago, continues and provides the latest of equipment in both departments. Driver training cars were purchased this year for the first time and our fleet of 18 buses and 3 trucks has also been expanded.

Teachers' salaries have been improved and standardized thus making Bensalem Township a most desirous locale in which to serve as a teacher.

Despite their many and varied duties it is not unusual to see our board members attending sporting events or a play or concert and lending their moral support to our student endeavours.

We, the Class of 1961, about to take our places as citizens in an expanding community, are very grateful to have benefited from the Directors' many services to our school and Bensalem Township as a whole. We know that in the future it will continue to provide solutions to our township's endless educational problems.

The 1960 football season was one of the most exciting in many a year. Following seven consecutive league game wins, we faced our traditional rival, Neshaminy, on the Saturday before Thanksgiving for the League Championship. Following a 13-13 half time score we bowed 32-13 and had to settle for second place in the league for 1960.

Throughout the season the Owls played exciting ball games. Every fan thrilled to the long passes from Bob Mudie to Bill Drueding and Bob Glose, and the "golden toe" of Bill Heller in kicking extra points.

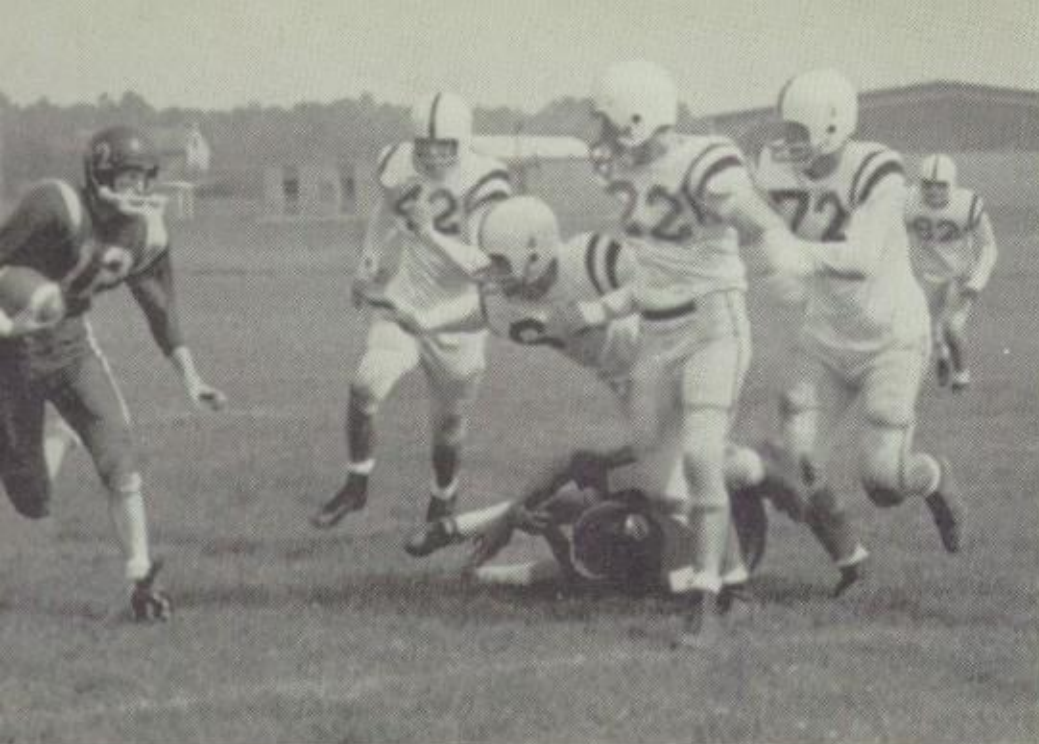

The starting line up of each game featured 11 seniors. The names of Rich Booz, Bob Glose, Bill Schreiber, Bill Heller, Harry Devlin, Jim Gourlay, John Sculenberger, Dick Tither, Bill Drueding, Art Etzrodt, John Tychiak, Ceasar De Lorenzo, George Whitfield, George Stockman, Gene Walters, Steve Coyle, Al Bowman, Bert Culp and Bob Mudie, will long be remembered as will our finest league record since the championship days of the 50's.

Head Coach Van Horn, and his capable assistants, Mr. Shaup and Mr. Zack, can be very proud of the 1961 Owls and the fine team spirit displayed by the players.

The Familiar cry of "Wait till Next Year" is heard by the underclassmen, so here's hoping the 7-1 record of 1960 can be bettered.

The 1961 Owls posted a 7-12 overall record this year, which included an upset victory over Woodrow Wilson High School, the current Lower Bucks County League Champions. Coach Robert Rhiel will be building a new team next year since this year's varsity was composed entirely of seniors.

The Junior Varsity, coached by Robert Shaup, took second place in the circuit with an 11-5 league record. Although the Little Owls lacked height, their hustle and determination made them a top contender in the J. V. ranks. We are certain that these boys will be welcomed as the 1962 Varsity.

The Owls, under the direction of Head Coach Robert Moore and Assistant Coach Fred Colteryahn, advanced another step in 1961 to move into second place in the Lower Bucks County League. Although Bensalem's championship drive was cut short by the heartbreaking difference of two points, Dave Lee, Harry Devlin, and Bill Heller did manage to capture individual championships in the league competition at Woodrow Wilson High School.

Seniors Dick Booz, Bill Heller, Harry Devlin, and Dave Lee regret leaving the team this year since each successive season of Bensalem wrestling has proved tops. They realize that the Owls' next step forward will be coming very soon.

Under Mr. Walter Price's direction, the band provided a musical background for our songs and rhythm for our cheers during the football season. It performed in numerous programs, including the Thanksgiving and Christmas shows and a special program for parents of band members. Several members appeared in the District Band and in the County Music Festival. The Band has made great progress and continued co-operation by all will enable it to reach even greater heights.

For many years the choir has contributed much towards enlightening the spirit of the school. Every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon, the choir can be found practicing, to insure their perfection, under the most capable direction of Mr. Thullen.

Because of the winter's heavy white performance, the Christmas concert was cancelled, but a fine performance inspiring all, was given December 23 as a special assembly program. The choir was met with fine success at the annual spring concert, special programs for the P.T.A. and various assembly programs throughout the year.

Many seniors are leaving this year and we hope the new members fill in as well.

Sent to the Bucks County Music Festival were Karen Conn, Jane Worthmall, Charles Mudie, Harold Tither, Barry Thompson, Sharon Brodish and Diane LeBold. Sent with honors to the District Chorus were Robert Bolton and Richard Salandrea.

STUDENT COUNCIL

In order to cope with increasing needs for a growing Bensalem High School body, the Student Council has assumed greater responsibilities. The school store was transferred to the old attendance office where it began immediately to thrive. The all school review, together with Blue and Gray Night, has become a major event in which all students are given the opportunity to participate. The Student Council, in offering these activities and in planning for a better school life, offers a means by which we can execute the responsibilities we will soon face as voting citizens.

Bensalem's Owlmanac has shown great progress this year. Having better issues, the monthly paper highlighted all the immediate happenings in and around the high school. Under the leadership of Mr. Ricci and Mr. Rudy, the advisors, and Peter Lade, the editor-in-chief, the Owlmanac published the best issues ever in the history of the paper. This year there were several co-editors of individual items in regard to the paper in order to share the burden of the work. With the hard work of the editors and the literary and business staff members the Owlmanac published a successful school paper.

"My aim," Mr. Ody says, "is to familiarize the students with working knowledge of calculus and vocabulary associated with it, to teach the fundamentals of college mathematics and to prepare the student for the first course in college mathematics." He feels, however, that the course will not only prepare students for college but also make the first year of college more smoothly for them.

The senior play, Our Town, was a three-act drama and was also one of the most difficult plays ever attempted by a high school cast. With practically no scenery, a town, two houses, a church, and a cemetery are portrayed. The actors were responsible for making the audience understand what was happening.

Many hours of rehearsal and effort on the part of the cast and the director, Mr. Kleinsorg, were rewarded by the praise of those who saw the production.

THE SANDS OF TIME FORETELL

Within the hour glass of our twelve years of education but a little sand remains. Every grain speeds up closer to the culmination of a way of life to which we have become accustomed over the years. Almost horrifying is the fact that most of us started school in September, 1949! Can it be really that long ago? Narrowly missing two world wars, we grew up in a world where another type of war is fought—a cold war. Modern art, beatniks, satellites, rock-and-roll—all are characteristic of our era.

There is something magical about being a senior. Almost everyone looks forward to being one, but why? Does being a senior command more respect? Yes—in part, but this is not the reason. The intangible advantages of being a senior are as hard to enumerate as the reasons for wanting to be one.

Nevertheless, in the above respect there are some generalizations which can be made. For twelve years we have studied to meet the challenges of life after graduation. All of us have prepared ourselves in various ways. Academic, commercial, technical, and general, are the four areas in which we as a class have engaged. With a background in any one of these, scholastic fundamentals are at our command. To meet the challenges of life is an important reason, but equally important are our ideals of fellowship and sportsmanship which we have developed through co-operation and competition in our various sports teams.

Perhaps the one outstanding advantage in being a senior is our ability to project our lives. Now we are able to set our goals and map our future lives. Our senior year is perhaps the most important in our lives for we chose our career in these years with few exceptions. College is a goal for some of us, continued technical training for others, and immediate jobs for still others. In this, our last year, we must determine, to a great extent, what our future lives will hold for us.

We look forward to becoming leaders in a troubled world, to families, and to becoming solid citizens. We look forward to the many years in the future when perhaps our grandchildren may ask in wonderment, "Gee, did they really do the twist and play rock-and-roll when you were young?" Most of all we look forward to a world blessed with peace and to a people neither enslaved nor suppressed.

After this year, all that will speak for the class of 1961 are the scuffed floors, the worn seats, the haggard teachers, and most important of all, our memories. But our lives will and must go on. Other classes will follow us, but each will leave, as have we, a contribution to the reputation of Bensalem. As seniors we want to leave our school with a little more prestige, with a little more to offer, than when we came. Enrichment of the good reputation of one's own alma mater is perhaps the best gift any class can give to a school, and an end toward which we are striving.

As a class and as individuals, we have a great deal for which to be thankful. We have had the opportunity to develop our interests under a free and enterprising society. Our lives are joined in one purpose—to make the world a better place in which to live. Freedom speaks for itself, but we often don't appreciate it. Democracy is a gift from our fore-fathers, but it, too, is often unappreciated. Disregarding nationalism, we can be proud of our country. It is not only the wealthiest land in the world, but also it provides for self-determination. Self-determination in the sense that we are free to develop our minds and lives in whatever way we see fit as long as it does not conflict with the morals of society. We have the opportunity to think and express our thoughts by mouth and printed word. We have the opportunity to see the world, unclouded and dynamic. Above all we have opportunity. It is for this reason that America has become the reservoir for all people.

For years to come we'll be able to reflect fondly upon the snow blizzard that gave us a week of vacation and its partners in crime which gave us more school days off than our imagination ever allowed. We'll still remember, too, the drivers hanging out of their cars and following the white line of the road in some of the worst fogs we've ever had. Rain or shine, fog or snow, our lives march forward and the hour glass will soon be turned over to begin a new phase of our lives. When, in later years, we think of the gasoline motor age, the spectacular satellites, Mr. Khrushchev and the furor created in the U. N. with his shoe, Castro in Cuba, and the Korean war, we'll have more than enough material with which to spin our old-age yarns. But as for now, our lives are youthful and vibrant. Our lives have just begun and we must learn to live in earnest and to dedicate ourselves to a goal. As a senior class we must have experienced much, but rather than reflect we shall have to project our thoughts toward a better world in which freedom and democracy are secure.
